

All About Me – Tuesday

Today, you will find out who your next teacher is as you move up to Year 5. Your current teachers will have already told your new teachers lots of wonderful things about you but your task today is to write a short paragraph about yourself that your new teacher can read.

You will want to tell your Year 5 teacher all the brilliant skills you have, what you are looking forward to about next year and possibly what things you are worried about. This will give them a good idea of your personality and what you are like before you go into their class.

If you want to, you can also draw a picture of yourself surrounded by all the things that you like. This will also show your new teacher how excellent your artistic skills are.

Sell yourself! Make your new teacher already excited to have you in their class!

If you would like to email these to your current teacher, we can then pass them on.

Your Year 4 teachers have loved having you in their class and we are all going to miss you!
